

Press Release - 15/05/2020

Accursia Capital acquires KLANN Packaging from Mutares

Landshut – Accursia Capital GmbH acquires KLANN Packaging GmbH from Mutares SE & Co. KGaA.

KLANN Packaging develops and manufactures high-quality promotions and sales packaging from tinplate. KLANN is a leading provider of decorative metal packaging in Europe and holds a loyal well-known customer base in the food industry. Mutares acquired the company in 2011 from HUBER decorative Packaging in course of a carve-out transaction.

„We see KLANN Packaging as a well-structured company which has potentials for further organic as well as inorganic growth. We plan to develop our new packaging platform over the coming years through our target oriented long-term Buy & Build approach. KLANN is our fourth investment in 2020 and confirms our sustainable growth strategy.“ said Martin Scheiblegger, Chief Executive Officer of Accursia Capital

“With Accursia we have found the ideal partner for KLANN Packaging, which has grown very close to our heart during the years of belonging to our portfolio. We are convinced that KLANN will develop excellently under the future owner through new organic and inorganic growth plans. For Mutares, this transaction is a great success in difficult market conditions and a further step in our portfolio consolidation” said Johannes Laumann, Chief Investment Officer of Mutares.

Accursia Capital was legally advised by the Munich team of Dentons led by Dr. Alexander von Bergwelt.

About Accursia Capital

Accursia Capital GmbH is a Munich based industry holding, which acquires and manages midsized companies. The typical transaction targets have significant operational improvement potential. Accursia Capital’s investment focus includes succession planning, restructuring and turnaround cases as well as complex carve-out projects. Accursia Capital is focused on a long-term investment horizon with the preliminary goal of expanding the industry holding with acquisitions of complementary companies in order to increase the competitiveness of all single portfolio companies based on synergies between the assets. www.accursia-capital.de

For further questions regarding the transaction please contact news@accursia-capital.de